How to Use This Book

Welcome to the Golden Globes gift book, and congratulations on your part of such a magical evening.

To mark this prestigious occasion and as a reward for your endeavors, Robb Report has created this book to serve as a menu of extraordinary products and experiences, brought to you by a variety of brands hand-selected by us. Here's how it works:

The items featured in this book are exclusively provided by independent merchants and are redeemable—and may be used—only by you, the recipient of the Ultimate Gift Book. While some merchants allow all Ultimate Gift Book recipients to claim their products, others have limited availability. In all instances, you are eligible to redeem no more than one of each offering unless otherwise stated by the merchant.

In the event you choose to select a gift item, please be aware that the respective merchant will request specific income-tax documentation. The IRS states you are required to report taxable income if you redeem a voucher for an offering in this book. You will be responsible for fulfilling any associated income-tax obligations.

Should you wish to claim a gift, contact the appropriate merchant directly for detailed information regarding voucher expiration, availability, eligibility criteria, the date by which an offering must be claimed or used, and any other redemption procedures and requirements provided by the merchant, and to provide your taxpayer identification number for Form 1099 reporting purposes. All vouchers expire, and each merchant may have additional redemption requirements that may not be detailed in this book.

Please note that the products, activities, and experiences featured in the Ultimate Gift Book are developed by independent merchants for promotional purposes. Robb Report assumes no responsibility for the nature, availability, or accuracy of the descriptions of these items.

It is essential to review all specific details directly with the respective merchant before choosing to redeem a voucher. These details may differ from what is initially presented in the Ultimate Gift Book.

All redemption transactions are directly handled by independent merchants. These merchants are solely accountable for all aspects of the transaction, including providing information and necessary paperwork concerning your income-tax obligations.

1 A TASTING OF THE WORLD'S MOST EXPENSIVE WINE

Offered by Liber Pater

VALUE: $272,000

It's a oenophile's dream: a chance to taste not just one or two of Liber Pater's world-renowned annual vintages but every one of them. This tasting dinner in the winery's cellar offers an opportunity to sample every bottle of Bordeaux produced by founder Loïc Pasquet's label over its 20-year existence. The wine's high value stems from not only its rarity but also its exotic nature; Liber Pater is made from rare grapes used in the 1850s that fell out of use after a blight. The result is a wine that aims to replicate the taste of Bordeaux that Napoleon would have drunk, creating what often becomes the most expensive wine in the world when it reaches buyers each year.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact info@liber-pater.com. Must be at least 21 years of age.

2

A TRANSFORMATIVE, NONINVASIVE FACELIFT

Best of all, there's no need for a lengthy recovery, and the whole procedure takes only about an hour.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact Gannon Kennedy, gkennedy@epione.com. Must be at least 18 years of age. Credit is nontransferable and can be used only by the recipient. Eligibility for the nonsurgical facelift treatment at Epione requires a consultation with one of our specialists to ensure the procedure is suitable for the patient; the treatment will not be offered in cases where it is deemed medically unsafe. Cannot be redeemed for cash or combined with any other offers. Credit must be used within one year of issuance.

During the five-day trip, you'll sail around Indonesia, taking in excursions around sites like the island of Komodo (mind the dragons) or the Spice Islands (mind the sandworms). You'll also dine on locally inspired cuisine, courtesy of chef Wayan Kresna Yasa, a veteran of Michelin-rated restaurants across America who hails from a small island off the coast of Bali.

A TRIO OF ULTRARARE WINES

Offered by Liber Pater

VALUE: $34,800

Liber Pater's philosophy for winemaking is: Create a Bordeaux using native varietals of grapes (of the types used before the Great French Wine Blight that all but wiped out many of that nation's vineyards), culled from ungrafted vines and produced using authentic 19th-century methods of viticulture. The result is a wine that tastes like the ones Napoleon used to drink—time travel in a bottle. Only a few hundred examples are released each year, making any chance to taste a Liber Pater creation an extraordinarily rare occurrence. This package includes three bottles from the winemaker's past catalog: one each of the 2015 vintage, the 2018 vintage, and the 2019 vintage.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact info@liber-pater.com.

14

A CUTTING-EDGE RED-LIGHT- THERAPY MASK

Offered by CurrentBody

VALUE: $469

Red-light therapy's benefits for skin care are well-known, and one benefit of the technology is its ease of use; the right wavelengths on your epidermis are all you need. CurrentBody's new at-home treatment, the LED Light Therapy Face Mask Series 2, targets wrinkles and lines with lights tuned to both red light and two frequencies of near-infrared, with the latter ones focused in particular around the mouth and eyes—two areas where those crinkles are particularly noticeable. And the liquid-silicone construction and multiple straps make finding a comfortable fit a cinch.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact Marie Laure Fournier, ml@fournierprandconsulting.com.

A PRIVATE FLIGHT AND STAY IN FINLAND TO SEE THE NORTHERN LIGHTS

Offered by ACX Access and Helsinki Citycopter

VALUE: $48,000

If the first thing that comes to mind at the words “aurora borealis” is Principal Skinner cooking steamed hams, it’s time to make some new memories. Fly on a private jet in ACX Access’s fleet of aircraft, taking in the capital of Helsinki before venturing north to the remote region of Lapland, where you’ll dine on authentic cuisine and blast across the steppe and beyond the Arctic Circle. Few things in life are guaranteed, but peering into the night sky at the top of Scandinavia is as close to a sure way as there is to see the northern lights—and even if you don’t, you’ll still come away with a bundle of new experiences under your belt.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact info@acxaccess.com. One trip for two people and does not include flights between the U.S. and Finland. Valid until October 31, 2025.

A CELEBRATED TEQUILA COLLECTION

Offered by Tequila Komos

VALUE: $950

Tequila Komos is the brainchild of master sommelier Richard Betts, and it's his experience with the world of winemaking that gives his spirit its distinctive quality, as the liquid always ages in French-oak wine barrels. This collection comes signed by Betts and includes a quartet of expressions: Reposado Rosa winds up pink after aging in French-oak red-wine barrels; Añejo Cristalino is aged in French-oak white-wine barrels, then charcoal-filtered for a crystal-clear look; Añejo Reserva combines aging in French-oak, bourbon, and sherry barrels; and the Extra Añejo is aged for at least three years in French-oak white-wine and American-oak whiskey barrels.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact ckbg@concierge.com. Must be 21 or older.

17

A RARE, EXCEPTIONAL TEQUILA

Offered by Tequila Komos

VALUE: $2,000

When Komos XO launched in 2023, Robb Report declared it "a new standard of luxury tequila," based in no small part on its time spent in the barrel. Made in a single, one-off batch, the expression spent 10 years aging in bourbon barrels then finished in red- and white-wine and sherry casks for almost two more, before finally being poured into its crystal decanter. The name, like the idea, is inspired by Cognac, with XO being used to signify examples of the French spirit at least a decade old.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact ckbg@concierge.com. Must be 21 or older. Only ten bottles are available.

A HUMIDOR MADE FOR TRAVEL

The integrated two-way humidity-control pack can keep up to eight cigars in ideal condition for up to 45 days. Its Italian-made construction uses welds instead of seams to reduce air exchange, and the unique wave design of the cigar tray ensures that the precious cargo is safe and stable while traveling. Plus, the Explorer's green-and-orange color scheme with matte hold-hook closures and a carabiner attachment guarantee it'll fit in nicely with almost any type of luggage.

20

A SERUM THAT STAYS FRESHER, LONGER

Offered by Exponent Beauty

VALUE: $98

High-end skin-care products can do remarkable things, but they're best when fresh; active ingredients lose efficacy over time as they sit in the bottle. Exponent Beauty's Activated Serum Power System gets around this by formulating the actives into a powder and keeping them separate from the hyaluronic-acid hydrator until needed. A two-part precision dispenser releases the right amount of powder into your palm, followed by the correct amount of liquid; mixing them together activates the serum, delivering a fresh dose every time.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact Marie Laure Fournier, ml@fournierprandconsulting.com.

A BOTTLE OF UNIQUE GIN OR WHISKY FROM SCOTLAND

Offered by Isle of Harris Distillery

VALUE: $150

Gin isn't a liquor typically associated with Scotland, but Isle of Harris Gin isn't your typical example of the spirit. After all, most versions don't include sugar-kelp seaweed—harvested from the nearby sea by a local diver—among their botanicals to deliver subtle coastal notes. Bottled at 45 percent ABV, this classic dry gin comes in a bespoke bottle meant to bring to mind the rippling, turquoise waters off its homeland's shores. If you prefer a more traditionally Scottish option, there's also The Hearach Single Malt Scotch Whisky, named after the Gaelic word for a native of the island where it's made. Either way, you're receiving a liquid made by a distillery that's working to address years of population decline by creating sustainable employment on the tiny Outer Hebridean island; of the Isle of Harris's fewer than 2,000 inhabitants, more than 45 work for the company.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact Iona Cairns, iona@harrisdistillery.com.

FACE CREAM
BACKED BY BRAD PITT

Offered by BEAU DOMAINE

VALUE: $209

If you've ever wondered how Brad Pitt still looks so good, it may well have something to do with his face cream. Literally, his cream; he's a cofounder of the French skin-care brand BEAU DOMAINE. The company's secret weapons: a potent combination of patented, rigorously tested ingredients called PRO3R® and GSM10® that were developed by leading researchers. The former reduces the effect of the protein progerin and can help slow signs of aging; the latter is a powerful antioxidant derived from grapes. (How French.) The brand's Fluid Cream boasts a hefty concentration of both, resulting in a moisturizer that hydrates, evens out skin tone, and minimizes hyperpigmentation—and, of course, leaves your skin smooth.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact Marie Laure Fournier, ml@fournierprandconsulting.com.

24

A SUSTAINABILITY-MINDED TRIP TO MEXICO

Offered by Tequila Komos

VALUE: $5,500

The tequila-making process leaves behind agave waste, so Komos cofounder Richard Betts helped devise a method to convert it into adobe bricks that could be used as building materials, leading to the construction of a schoolhouse in Tequila, Mexico, in 2024. (Six more schoolhouses are planned for this year.) This trip includes a VIP experience for two to see the projects and try your hand at the adobe-brick-making process, as well as dine on local cuisine—and, of course, partake in a private tequila tasting.

NEED TO KNOW: To inquire, please contact komosmarketing@ckbg.com. Must be 21 or older. Only one experience is available.
